Northwest Health – La Porte Prepares to Begin Last Phase of Old Hospital Demolition

La Porte, IN – The next and final phase of the old La Porte Hospital demolition is scheduled to begin early this summer with an anticipated completion date by the end of the year, announced Ashley Dickinson, Chief Executive Officer, Northwest Health.

For this last phase of the project, Northwest Health – La Porte has chosen a local demolition contractor, Brandenburg Industrial Service Company. Once the demolition is complete, the nearly seven acre site will be graded and seeded.

“At Northwest Health, we strive to be a good partner to the communities we serve by working together to improve the population’s health and well-being,” said Dickinson. “That’s another reason why we look forward to providing a beautiful, green, park-like space in the heart of downtown La Porte for the community and our team members to enjoy. Our end goal is to develop it with the right partner, and in accordance with the vision of the city.”
